Prodigy Infotech   Jun 24 - Jul 24

Full-Stack Intern   Remote

- During my internship at Prodigy Infotech, I learned the MERN stack and completed tasks that strengthened my full-stack development skills. I built a dynamic e-commerce website using Next.js and Tailwind CSS, where I integrated front-end and back-end functionalities to showcase products and facilitate transactions. I successfully completed all tasks and received a Letter of Recommendation (LOR) and a certificate for my work.

Projects

- Air Sneak (E-commerce) : I utilized Next.js and Tailwind CSS for the frontend, along with Medusa.js and PostgreSQL for the backend, managing both frontend and backend development. This project showcased my comprehensive skills in full-stack development.
- AnimeView (WordPress) : I created AnimeView using WordPress, where I utilized Elementor, WPForms, and Styler for WPForms plugins to build an anime review blog website. The platform allows users to post their own reviews, and I handled the entire development process, showcasing my skills in WordPress and PHP.
- iPhone 15 Animated 3D Web : I created an Apple-themed 3D website using React, Vite, Three.js, and GSAP, focusing on interactive animations and visual effects. This project highlighted my skills in advanced web development and animation.
- Clubs (WordPress) : I developed a WordPress website called "Clubs," focused on football clubs, using Elementor and other plugins to create a user-friendly interface. The site allows users to explore various football clubs, enhancing their experience with detailed content and smooth navigation.
